BANGLADESH ECONOMY: A BRIEF OVERVIEW

Despite the challenging global economic conditions and geo-political crisis, Bangladesh successfully managed the COVID-19 pandemic shock with prudent macroeconomic policies maintaining a consistent growth trajectory in the post-COVID era. According to the IMF, Bangladesh's economy is on the right track in terms of meeting the objectives, managing inflation effectively and addressing macroeconomic challenges within the context of a difficult global environment. Over the past 4 years, the world has confronted an unprecedented pandemic consequence. Even as the global economy is recovering from the COVID-19 pandemic, the ongoing geopolitical and global economic crisis has exacerbated the fragile recovery from the pandemic, weakening global growth prospects significantly, rising energy, food and commodity prices, soaring inflation and tightening monetary policy stances by major central banks.

However, the year 2023 will be remembered as the year of achieving some significant milestones in the national context of Bangladesh. Most notable among them is the entry into the Metrorail era as Bangladesh inaugurated the country's first metro rail system, MRT-6, in the heart of Dhaka. Dhaka is now in the club of 205 cities in 61 countries that currently have Metrorail systems. Likewise, the inauguration of the Elevated Expressway, the magnificent third terminal of Dhaka airport, the Padma Bridge and the train service on the 82 km Dhaka-Bhanga route through the Padma Bridge were some monumental infrastructures that are expected to scale up the GDP of Bangladesh. Besides, Rooppur Nuclear Power Plant is the country's greatest achievement since its independence and the country has become the 33rd nuclear power country in the world. Time magazine termed Bangladesh as an economic rising star for its remarkable transformation in the 21st century. Exploiting opportunities from these transportation and energy infrastructures are expected to boost investment and employment, potentially leading to a strong growth rate in FY24 and steer the economy smoothly towards the ultimate goal of becoming a developing economy by 2026 followed by a developed economy by 2041. The GDP for FY23 is expected to be USD 453.85 billion with USD 2657 per capita GDP at current prices, according to the provisional estimate from Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS), Appendix (Table-2).

Economic Growth and its key Sectors

Bangladesh's economy has been consistently performing well, with real GDP growth exceeding 6% since FY2010-11 up until the onset of the COVID-19 outbreak and subsequent global crisis. The growth rate elevated to 7.88% in FY2018-19. Although the dollar price hike, inflationary pressure and global ongoing crisis in the economy, the country's economic growth still remains steady due to timely initiative and policy measures. In FY2022-23, the real GDP growth is expected to be 6.03% which was 7.10% in the previous fiscal year.

Per capita national income is expected to reach USD 2,765 in FY2022-23. The domestic savings (Gross) and national savings are also expected to amount to 26.02% and 30.22% of GDP for the same period. The gross investment is expected to be 31.25% of GDP in FY2022-2023, with public investment accounting for 7.61% and private investment for 23.64% of GDP, respectively.

The economic achievements are reflected in the GDP ranking of the world. According to the World Economic League Table, Bangladesh is now the 35th largest economy and if the current trend of economic development in Bangladesh continues, it will be the 20th largest economy in the world by 2037, according to the Center for Economics and Business Research (CEBR), a UK-based economic research organization. IMF also said strengthening multilateral and regional cooperation and mitigating the effects of geo-economic fragmentation are vital for Asia's economic outlook in the coming years. The economic achievements are reflected in the GDP ranking of the world.

IMF also said strengthening multilateral and regional cooperation and mitigating the effects of geo-economic fragmentation are vital for Asia's economic outlook in the coming years.

The growth rate of major sectors in constant price is given below to portray the scenario of macro-economy.

Agriculture

In FY2022-23, the contribution of this sector to GDP is expected to be 11.20% which was 11.61% in FY2021-22. During FY2022-23, the contributions of major agricultural sub-sectors like crops and horticulture, animal farming, forestry and related services, and fishing to GDP reached 5.25%, 1.85%, 1.70% and 2.41% respectively in contrast to 5.46%, 1.91%, 1.72% and 2.53% in FY2021-2022, Appendix (Table-1).

Industry

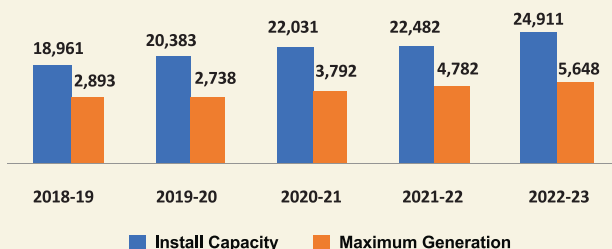

The contribution of industry to GDP is expected to be 37.56% in FY2022-23, which was 36.92% in the previous fiscal year. The main contributor to the industry's share in GDP is the manufacturing sector which is expected to have a 24.95% share in total industrial share in GDP in FY 2022-23, up from 24.29% in the previous year. Electricity (including gas) and Construction hold respectively 1.21% and 9.55% of the industry's share in GDP in FY2022-23, which were 1.23% and 9.54% in FY2021-22 accordingly, Appendix (Table-1).

Electricity and Power

The government has undertaken immediate, short-term, medium-term and long-term strategies to address the rising demand for electricity.

The primary objective is to achieve a power generation capacity of 60,000 MW by 2041, leveraging both renewable and non-renewable energy sources, with a particular emphasis on clean and renewable energy. The installed generation capacity of the country has increased to 28,134 Megawatt (MW) in FY2022-23 including captive and renewable energy from 18,961 MW in FY2018-19 whereas it was 20,383 MW in FY 2019-20.

Install Capacity and Maximum Generation in MW

Service Sector

The contribution of the service sector to GDP and the sectoral growth rate of GDP are expected to be 51.24% and 5.84% respectively in FY2022-23, which were 51.48% and 6.26% respectively in the previous fiscal year. The service sector in Bangladesh is comprised of several other sub-sectors. Within the service sector, the shares of wholesale and retail trade, transportation and storage, financial and insurance activities, real estate activities, public administration and defense, education, human health and social work, and other services are expected to be 15.29%, 7.32%, 3.17%, 7.93%, 3.47%, 2.71%, 3.46%, and 4.54% respectively compared with 15.24%, 7.34%, 3.19%, 8.12%, 3.45%, 2.69%, 3.40%, and 4.67% in the previous fiscal year. However, the sectoral growth rate of GDP remains steady in the service sector, Appendix (Table-1).

Monetary Sector

Private sector credit growth decreased by 10.49% (y-o-y) in FY23 whereas 13.66% credit growth was attained in FY22. Bangladesh Bank (BB), the country's central bank has taken several initiatives to contain money supply to the market by reducing its credit growth to the private sector. Although BB set a credit growth of 14.1% FY2022-23. The weighted average nominal lending rate experienced an increase, rising from 7.09% in June 2022 to 7.29% in April 2023. Similarly, the weighted average nominal deposit rate also saw an upward shift, reaching 4.38% in April 2023 compared to 3.97% in June 2022. The interest rate spread (the difference between the lending rate and deposit rate) also dropped to 2.91% in April 2023 from 3.12% in June 2022, indicating an improvement in the banking sector's efficiency. Besides, BB has increased its policy rate, the repo rate, from 5.00% to 6.00% in different phases of FY23.

Export

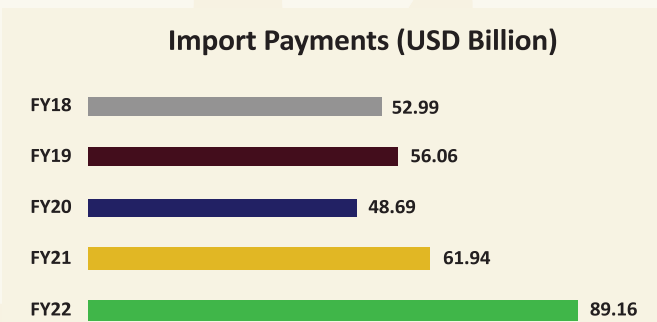

Export volume in FY2022-23 increased by 3.43% to USD 63.06 billion, which was USD 60.97 billion in FY2021-22. The export of Ready-made garments has contributed to the lion's share (84.58%) of the country's exports. In FY23, RMG (knitwear and woven garments) exports experienced 10.27% growth, other commodities export experienced growth like Live Fish 129.55%, Paper and Paper Products 118.33%, Plastic Products 26.23%, Leather Products 17.40%. During FY2022-23, the highest export was 17% in the USA followed by 13% in Germany, 10% in the UK, and 7% in Spain.

Import

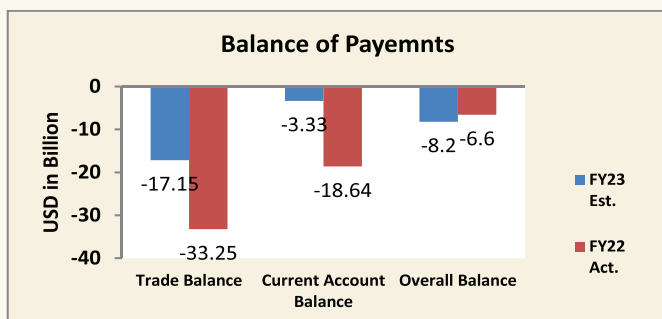

Import Payments of Goods and Services in FY2022-23 are expected to decrease by 15.81% to USD 75.06 billion compared to USD 89.16 billion in FY22, supported by a notable depreciation of the exchange rate and several policy initiatives taken by BB for containing import demand. However, the commodity composition of import discloses that imports of all categories, including intermediate goods, capital goods, and consumer goods, except for food grains, experienced a decline during this period following prudent monitoring by BB. Notable decreases include a 27.09% reduction in the import of petroleum, oil, and lubricants, a 20.06% decrease in textile and related articles, and a 16.85% decline in iron, steel, and other base metals. The only exception to this trend was fertilizer, which witnessed an increase of 11.89%.

Balance of Payment

The country is expected to register a trade deficit of USD 17.15 billion in FY23. However, the current account deficit sharply declined to USD 3.33 billion in FY23 from USD 18.64 billion in FY22. This trend of declining trade deficit was facilitated by the policy measures implemented by the central bank (BB) to contain import payments and increase remittance inflows. The deficit in the overall balance of payment widened to USD 8.22 billion in FY23 from USD 6.66 billion in FY22.

Remittance

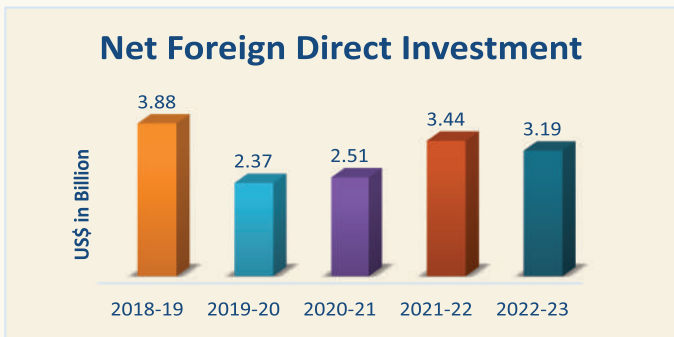

Remittance is a pivotal source of bagging foreign exchange earnings for Bangladesh. During FY2022-23, remittance inflow stood at USD 21.61 billion which is an increase of 2.76% from the corresponding previous fiscal year. Remittance inflow in Bangladesh has always shown a steady increase. However, the inflow of remittances is expected to be stronger in the period ahead with the favor of high growth in overseas employment, supportive measures of BB and market-driven depreciation of exchange rates. Therefore, the overall balance of payments might improve in the future period.

Foreign Direct Investment (FDI)

FDI net inflow reached USD 3.19 billion in FY23, which was USD 3.44 billion in the previous fiscal year. FDI trend in Bangladesh exhibited an increasing trend up to FY 2018-19. Due to decreased financial activity worldwide during the COVID-19 outbreak at the beginning of 2020, the FDI shrank substantially in FY 2019-20 and FY 2020-21. However, the FDI trend has recovered to its pre-pandemic level in FY2021-22 when the world slowly recovered from pandemic-induced shocks and shifts in financial activity. But in FY23, Net FDI inflows also declined due to rising global economic uncertainties.
